

Important Product Information

This Important Product Information guide contains safety, handling, disposal and recycling, regulatory, and software license information for your computer. Retain documentation for future reference.

WARNING: Failure to follow these safety instructions could result in fire, electric shock, or other injury or damage to your computer or other property. Read all safety information below before using your computer.

Review the iMac Essentials guide before using your computer. Download the guide from www.apple.com/support/manuals/imac or from the iBooks Store (where available).

Important safety and handling information

Proper handling Set up your computer on a stable work surface. Never push objects into the ventilation openings.

Water and wet locations Keep your computer away from sources of liquid, such as drinks, washbasins, bathtubs, shower stalls, and so on. Protect your computer from dampness or wet weather, such as rain, snow, and fog.

Avoiding hearing damage To prevent possible hearing damage, do not listen at high volume levels for long periods. More information about sound and hearing is available online at www.apple.com/sound (www.apple.com/la/sound in Latin America) and in "Important safety information" in the iMac Essentials guide.

Repairing

Except for memory in 27-inch iMac models, your computer doesn't have any user-serviceable parts. Do not attempt to replace or repair any components inside your computer. If your computer needs service, consult Apple or an Apple-authorized repair center, such as an Apple Authorized Service Provider.

Learning more, service, and support

You can find more information about your computer through Mac Help and online resources.

Mac Help

You can often find answers to your questions, as well as instructions and troubleshooting information, in Mac Help on your Mac. Click the Finder icon, click Help in the menu bar, and choose Mac Help.

Online resources

For online service and support information, go to www.apple.com/support. You can learn about Apple products, view online manuals, and check for software updates. Connect with other Apple users, and get service, support, and professional advice from Apple.

AppleCare support

If you need assistance, AppleCare support representatives can help you with installing and opening applications, and troubleshooting. Call the support center number nearest you (the first 90 days are complimentary). Have the purchase date and your computer serial number ready when you call.

Your 90 days of complimentary telephone support begins on the date of purchase.
